the house that love built.
The generosity of a caring Central Florida community helped us to build the Ronald McDonald House on the campus of Nemours Children’s Hospital, expanding our mission in partnership with all three of the pediatric hospitals in Orlando. The new Ronald McDonald House will provide a home away from home for 15 additional families each night, increasing the number of families we serve from 59 to 74 at all three Houses. This newsletter pays tribute to everyone whose contributions of time, talent, and treasure made our dream of building Orlando’s third Ronald McDonald House a reality.

Confetti flew as the ribbon was cut, officially opening the Ronald McDonald House. “The opening of the House is a milestone in our history,” stated Lou Ann DeVoogd. “We join only five other cities to operate three or more Ronald McDonald Houses on three or more hospital campuses. Our program is important to our community as we become recognized as a destination for pediatric healthcare in our country.”

“We call the Ronald McDonald House, The House that Love Built.” Lou Ann stated. Tom Chandler, President and COO of SchenkelShultz, stepped forward to lead the Capital Campaign Committee’s fundraising efforts, as well as contributing $400,000 in pro-bono design services for the project. Tom and the SchenkelShultz design team have contributed to all three of the Ronald McDonald Houses in Orlando, in addition to two of the expansions over the past 20 years. The RMH was designed to include modern, bold materials with a series of colorful vertical articulated bays. “We built this House using lessons learned from the other two Houses and addressing how the program has evolved,” said Tom Chandler. Once the 28,636 sq. foot House is completely built out, it will be prepared to submit for LEED Certification.
The first phase of the Ronald McDonald House provides 19,600 square feet of indoor living space, offering 15 bedrooms, a residents’ kitchen and dining room, a gathering room, a playroom, a treasure room, and a community room. As with the other two Houses, the third floor was shelled out for future expansion when needed. The House is built on .79 acres of land allowing for a vibrant colored playground, an orange tree sculpture, symbolizing health and wellness, a healing garden area and seating areas for the families to relax and rest.

Dana Bledsoe, shared with the audience of over 500 supporters, the importance of the House to health and healing and what it means to Nemours’ families, doctors and nurses.

“The Ronald McDonald House opening on the Nemours Children’s Hospital campus is the budding of a tremendous partnership and it is so important for the children and families that we are absolutely privileged to care for on a daily basis,” said Bledsoe.

Eric Ravndal IV reiterated the importance of the Ronald McDonald House mission to keep families together when they need it most… during the illness of their child. He commented, “It was blistering hot under the August sun, yet once those children walked out smiling and waving, it was exhilarating. They all have been through so much, so young.”

It was a wonderful celebration. The children were the first to enter the newest RMH to lead the House tours for the community – checking out the beds, the playroom and the playground. It was a big day, with rave reviews from the children and their parents!

The RMH opened Thursday and Friday, August 11th and 12th for public tours, welcoming families on Saturday, August 13th. By Tuesday, August 16th, ten families were staying at the “House that Love Built.”

LEAVE A LEGACY
As part of the family of Ronald McDonald Houses around the world, we are honored to increase our global network by one to 359 Houses with the opening of our Ronald McDonald House on the campus of Nemours Children’s Hospital in Lake Nona.

With Orlando’s growing emergence as a world-class pediatric healthcare destination, our nonprofit organization plays a vital role in bridging access to three of the country’s top respected pediatric hospitals including Florida Hospital for Children, Arnold Palmer Medical Center, and now Nemours Children’s Hospital. This issue is dedicated to you and the hundreds of individuals, corporations, foundations, and organizations whose generosity made it possible for Ronald McDonald House of Central Florida to provide comfort and care to children and families during their time of medical crisis in our community. The Ronald McDonald House is truly—the House that Love Built.

As we begin to celebrate our 20th anniversary in December, we wish to acknowledge with deep gratitude, every individual who has helped us touch the lives of more than 24,000 families. Thank you for being part of our work: whether you prepared meals to bring comfort to our families, volunteered to make our guests feel welcomed, or contributed financially to our mission, all of your contributions made it possible for Ronald McDonald House of Central Florida to grow and thrive to meet the critical need our community has for our services. It is with great optimism that we look to our future and the unparalleled opportunity to work with our pediatric hospitals and Lake Nona Medical City partners to find new and innovative ways to continue to enhance the quality of life for children from Florida and around the world. We hope you are as excited as we are to deepen the engagement of our community to strengthen the impact of our mission. As we celebrate our twenty-year anniversary, made possible by your generosity, we hope you will continue to be an integral part of our future.

Local Artists Create Original Works Inspired By Donors

The impact of the arts in the process of healing was recognized long ago by Hippocrates, who understood the importance of uplifting his patients’ spirits. To advance our mission to provide the highest level of comfort and care to our children and families, we have installed an original collection of healing art in the bedroom suites and public spaces in the new House.

Twenty-seven celebrated Central Florida artists were selected to be part of this special arts initiative. Artists were paired with our donors to collaborate together for inspiration in creating original works installed in the House. In addition to paintings, a majestic steel and aluminum “Orange Tree” sculpture stands in the middle of the courtyard, recognizing Dr. Philips and their philanthropic support of this project. “The art not only helps with healing, it also honors our donors. It was a collaboration of talent and inspiration between our donors and artists,” said Lou Ann DeVoogd, CEO, Lou Ann DeVoogd, and COO of RAMI, Inc. “The artists were inspired by the unique design of the orange tree sculpture that they gifted for the courtyard area.”

Our Loyal Volunteers

Our Volunteers are the backbone of our organization. They assist at the front desk; help clean up the kitchens and the gathering rooms, console families, and do so much more. We are so grateful for all they do for us and our families each and every day – 365 days a year.

In honor of our RMH Volunteers, Pat and Ben McKendall, underwrote the Resident’s Pantry at our new RMH. Every Friday morning you can find Pat cleaning out the refrigerators at our RMH on the campus of Florida Hospital for Children. The Friday morning shift has always been a popular one, because Pat always brings in her homemade baked goods! Pat was one of our first volunteers and will celebrate 20 years with us in December. Congratulations Pat for your 20 years of service and for your support of RMH and all our volunteers! Thank you for all that you do for RMH!

In honor of our RMH Volunteers, Pat McKendall proudly shows off the baked goods she prepared for our families.
