Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Florida, Inc. as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1. Nature of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of organization: The Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Florida, Inc. (the Organization or Ronald McDonald House) was incorporated on September 16, 1993, and is a not-for-profit corporation established to create, fund and support programs that directly improve the health and well-being of children and families.

House operations: Ronald McDonald House is the Organization's cornerstone program. The two facilities (the Houses), with 59 bedrooms combined, provide temporary lodging to families of seriously ill children being treated at Walt Disney Pavilion at Florida Hospital for Children, Florida Hospital Cancer Institute, Arnold Palmer Hospital for Children, Winnie Palmer Hospital for Women & Babies, Nemours Children's Clinic, Nemours Children's Hospital, and other area medical facilities. In 2014, the Houses welcomed 1,561 families, representing 20 countries outside the United States, 36 states, and 42 Florida counties. In 2013, the Houses welcomed 1,850 families, representing 23 countries outside the United States, 35 states, and 51 Florida counties.

A summary of the Organization's significant accounting policies follows:

Accounting principles: A not-for-profit organization is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted, temporarily restricted, and permanently restricted. Accordingly, net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Unrestricted net assets: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations, but may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Directors.

Temporarily restricted net assets: Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met either by actions of the Organization and/or the passage of time.

Permanently restricted net assets: Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be permanently maintained by the Organization. The Organization has no permanently restricted net assets.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of operating support and revenues, and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents: The Organization considers all highly-liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Organization currently has no cash equivalents.

Pledges receivable: Promises to give are recognized as revenue in the period received at fair value if they are unconditional promises. Conditional promises are recorded as revenue when the conditions are met. The Organization provides an allowance for uncollectible pledges when necessary. The allowance for uncollectible pledges of $88,000 and $15,000 as of December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, reflects management's best estimate of future uncollectible pledges.

Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of their estimated future cash flows. The discounts on those amounts are computed using risk-free interest rates applicable to the years in which the promises are received. Amortization of the discounts is included in contributions revenue in the accompanying statements of activities.

Investments and investment income: Investments are reported at fair value (see Note 4). Realized gains and losses are recorded at date of disposition based on the difference between the net proceeds received and the cost of the investments sold, using the specific identification method. Unrealized gains and losses are reported for the changes in fair value between reporting periods. Interest and dividends income is recognized when earned. Gains and losses on investments are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is restricted by explicit donor stipulation or by law.

Property and equipment: Purchased or constructed assets are capitalized at cost. Interest costs incurred during a period of construction are capitalized. Donations of property and equipment are recorded as contributions at their estimated fair value. Such donations are reported as unrestricted contributions unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as temporarily restricted contributions. Absent donor stipulations regarding how long those donated assets must be maintained, the Organization reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service as instructed by the donor. Improvements and betterments are capitalized while repair and maintenance expenditures are expensed.

Depreciation is recorded using the straight-line method of accounting over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, which ranges from 3 to 39 years.

Impairment of long-lived assets: The carrying value of property and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate such value may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell. No impairment of long-lived assets has been recognized during the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013.

Beneficial interest in assets held by others: In accordance with guidance related to accounting for contributions held by an organization for the benefit of another organization which states that organizations that transfer assets to other not-for-profit agencies who specify themselves or their affiliates as the beneficiaries, and has not granted variance power, are not considered expenses and are recorded as a beneficial interest in assets held by others in the statements of financial position at fair value.

Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Florida, Inc.

Revenue recognition: Contributions, which include unconditional promises to give (pledges), are recognized as revenues in the period received or promised, whichever is earlier, at fair value. Conditional contributions are recorded when the conditions have been met. Contributions are considered to be unrestricted unless specifically restricted by the donor.

The Organization reports contributions in the temporarily or permanently restricted net assets class if they are received with donor stipulations as to their use. When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or the purpose of the restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are released and reclassified to unrestricted net assets in the accompanying statements of activities.

Program revenues, which primarily consist of room donations, are recognized when services are provided to families. Families without the ability to contribute to the program are never turned away and their stay is underwritten by the Organization's donors.

Special events: Revenue from special events is recognized as unrestricted revenue unless the event is held to benefit a specific purpose. Expenses related to these special events are reported as fundraising expenses.

Contributed services and materials: Contributed services are reported at fair value in the financial statements for voluntary donations of services when those services: (1) create or enhance non-financial assets or (2) require specialized skills provided by individuals possessing those skills and are services which would be typically purchased if not provided by donation. Contributed materials are recorded at their fair value at the date of the gift.

During the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, the Organization recorded contributed services and materials revenue of $927,003 and $395,592, respectively. These amounts are shown as revenue in the accompanying statements of activities as a component of unrestricted contributions. Of these amounts, $415,322 and $20,184 were capitalized as part of property and equipment during the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The remaining portion was expensed to house operations in each year, of which $28,578 and $15,513 represented contributed services during the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

Functional expenses: The cost of providing the program and supporting services have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities and in the statements of functional expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the program and supporting services benefited.

Income taxes: The Organization is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and from state income taxes under similar provisions of the Florida Statutes. Accordingly, no provision for federal and state income taxes has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

The Organization follows accounting standards relating to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. Management assessed whether there were any uncertain tax positions which may give rise to income tax liabilities and determined that there were no such matters requiring recognition in the accompanying financial statements. The Organization files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction. Generally, the Organization is no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before December 31, 2011.

Reclassifications: Certain amounts in the 2013 financial statements have been reclassified in order to conform with the 2014 presentation. These reclassifications had no impact on total assets, total liabilities, or net assets.

Subsequent events: Management has assessed subsequent events through May 14, 2015, which is the date these financial statements were available to be issued.

The Organization invests in various investment securities in accordance with its investment policy. These investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risk. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities and the uncertainty related to changes in their values, it is reasonable to expect that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the investment balance.

Note 4. Fair Value Measurements

The Organization follows accounting standards relating to fair value measurements which defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The accounting standards relating to fair value measurements establishes a three-level valuation hierarchy for disclosure of fair value measurements. The valuation hierarchy is based upon the transparency of inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs. Investments and the beneficial interest in assets held by others recorded at fair value in the accompanying statements of financial position are categorized based upon the level of judgment associated with the inputs used to measure their fair value. Level inputs, as defined by this guidance, are as follows:

- Level 1 Inputs are unadjusted, quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets at the measurement date.
- Level 2 Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability through corroboration with market data at the measurement date.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs that reflect management's best estimate of what market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date.

Fair value of actively traded debt and equity securities are based on quoted market prices. Fair value of inactively traded debt securities are based on quoted market prices of identical or similar securities or based on observable inputs like interest rates using either a market or income valuation approach and are generally classified as Level 2.
